

University of Granada

Pre-approved courses for Carolina Global Launch

All classes listed are 45 contact hours

University of Granada Course Name	UNC Course Equivalent
History of Spanish Art	General Education 180
The course introduces students to the discipline of Spanish art history. Particular attention is paid to the artistic and historic monuments in Granada and the surrounding areas in order to allow students to more closely appreciate the history of Spanish art as a whole.
Environment and Politics of the EU	General Education 145
This course is designed to present the current situation and the challenges of the Environmental Policy of the European Union, particularly problems of enforcement due to the different national interests and commitments of EU Member States. The EU goals and approaches for environmental protection are compared with those of the USA and/or other countries, through discussions and seminars.
History of Spain	General Education 150
We would start analyzing Prehistory and Ancient History in the Iberian Peninsula. We would continue with the fallen of the Roman Empire, the Visigoth Kingdom, Al-Andalus, the 'Reconquista', the Catholic Kings and the Habsburg dynasty, the crisis of Spanish empire and the Bourbon Reformism. We would learn as well about late Spanish modern history: we would study the Ancient Regime Crisis, the Liberal Revolution, the Restoration, the Primo de Rivera Dictatorship, the II Republic, the Civil War, Francoism and, of course, the Transition to Democracy.
The Arab World and the West: Past and Future	General Education 108
In the first section of the course, students will analyze the history of the Arab world from the emergence of Islam to the Iraq war, including the crusades, the Ottoman Empire, the western colonization, etc. During the 2nd part of the course, students focus on the main challenges of the relations between the Arab world and the West. This course covers topics such as the long-term impact of the penetration of Europe into the Islamic World, Orientalism, and Occidentalism, Islamic immigration into western societies, the impact of 9-11 and the Iraq war, and the role of oil and the Middle East conflict.
Islamic Culture in Spain	General Education 106
This course is an introduction to the general character of the different aspects of the Arabic-Andalusian civilization. It is assumed that students do not have an in-depth background in the Arab-Islamic culture, thus, the course begins with an overview of the religious and social aspects of this culture, as well as a bibliography to allow the students to continue their own future studies.
The Political Systems of Spain and the EU	General Education 140
The aim of this course is to teach the basics of contemporary politics and history in Spain while also describing the main elements of the political system of the European Union. Students will learn to interpret the political reality and understand the current workings of both Spain and the European Union as a whole.
Health Sciences and Public Health in Spain	General elective
This course provides students with a greater knowledge of the Spanish Health system and medicine in Spain. Among other topics, students study the Spanish sanitary system, the future role of Spanish medicine, cancer, infectious diseases, the economic development, public health and new therapies of the 21st century. The course includes practical field work and visits that complement the theoretical components studies.

International Marketing	General elective
This subject will lead the student to become familiar with the characteristics of the following: process of internationalization, the market entry strategies in the international markets, the process of selections of the target international markets, the process of segmentation and positioning in the international, markets, and the decisions regarding the standardization and adaptation for the international marketing-mix.
Spanish and Latin American Economies	General elective
The student will study the world of business, trade and economy from a theoretic and practical point of view. This course is based on three different stages: The world of business, the foundations of the Spanish and Latin American economies and economic policy lexicon.
Mathematics and Reality	Math 119
The aim is to provide the student with a theoretical-practical knowledge of some aspects of mathematics whose presence in pre-university teaching is usually scarce, null, or of a purely formal approach, but which contribute to improving not only mathematical culture in general but also the capacity to understand and solve a great diversity of real problems and their conditioning factors. Classes will include lectures, along with a space for debate and discussion, and a stimulating proposal of problems of ingenuity.
Social and Demographic Changes in Spain	General elective
This course aims to address the study of physical, economic, political, social and regional contemporary Spain. After an introductory theme dedicated to acquainting students with the vocabulary of this specific matter, the course will start with the physical study of the Iberian Peninsula. The following themes will analyze the evolution of the Spanish population in the recent century, the natality behavior of the Spanish and the most significant changes, structural characteristics, migration and the recent phenomenon of immigration. Other themes include the current economic policies, features of the different economic sectors, and the significance of Spain as a member of the European Union.
Sustainability in the Mediterranean	General elective
Through revising bibliographic references and local case studies, students will understand the basics of traditional and innovative local self-sustainable projects in the Mediterranean context. Students will also identify and compare the community practices and local governance in the Mediterranean region, contrasting the city and rural landscape configurations in the Mediterranean region, especially those related to the local self-sustainable development. They also will identify and explain in situ the processes and resistances that are influencing the local sustainability of Granada and its surroundings.
Spanish Literature	Spanish 275
The basic goal of this course is to offer a general perspective of Spanish literature from its origins until the present day. Students will study different periods, as well as the most significant authors and works. Different literary texts are analyzed, and complementary visual materials are used.
Latin American Civilization and Culture	Latin American Studies 101
This course aims to explaining and studying in depth the basic points considered the basis of Latin American culture. Cultural aspects of different fields will be covered and interrelated through explanations, articles, and media resources.
Spanish Literature from the 19th Century to Present	Spanish 371
Intro to Business Spanish	Spanish 320
The Diversity of Spanish Language in the World	Spanish 376
Canción tradicional y sociedad española: flamenco, folclor y canción sefardí	Spanish 340 or Spanish 398

La España Actual en los Medios de Comunicación	Spanish 340 or Spanish 398
Spanish Language (Level 1)	Spanish 101
The aim of all Spanish language classes at the University of Granada is to help students develop a strong grammatical understanding of the Spanish language, enabling analysis, reflection and practical use in a variety of formal contexts. Sample topics covered in Level 1 include: ser/estar, noun-adjective agreement, present indicative verb tense, questions, and adverbs of frequency.
Spanish Language (Level 2)	Spanish 102
The aim of all Spanish language classes at the University of Granada is to help students develop a strong grammatical understanding of the Spanish language, enabling analysis, reflection and practical use in a variety of formal contexts. Sample topics covered in Level 2 include: ser/estar, tener/llevar, comparisons of equality and inequality, gustar, adverbs, gerunds, infinitives, preterite verb tense.
Spanish Language (Level 3)	Spanish 105
The aim of all Spanish language classes at the University of Granada is to help students develop a strong grammatical understanding of the Spanish language, enabling analysis, reflection and practical use in a variety of formal contexts. Sample topics covered in Level 3 include: review of topics from levels 1 and 2, prepositions, noun-adjective agreement, "se impersonal", reflexive verbs, direct and indirect objects.
Spanish Language (Level 4)	Spanish 203
The aim of all Spanish language classes at the University of Granada is to help students develop a strong grammatical understanding of the Spanish language, enabling analysis, reflection and practical use in a variety of formal contexts. Sample topics covered in Level 4 include: review of topics from levels 1, 2 and 3, preterite versus imperfect verb tenses, commands, past perfect verb tense.
Spanish Language (Level 5)	Spanish 204
The aim of all Spanish language classes at the University of Granada is to help students develop a strong grammatical understanding of the Spanish language, enabling analysis, reflection and practical use in a variety of formal contexts. Sample topics covered in Level 5 include: review of topics from levels 1, 2, 3 and 4, tools to talk about time in the past, tools to describe events in the past, future verb tense, future perfect, negative commands, various and increasingly complex uses of the present subjunctive.
Spanish Language (Level 6)	Spanish 261
The aim of all Spanish language classes at the University of Granada is to help students develop a strong grammatical understanding of the Spanish language, enabling analysis, reflection and practical use in a variety of formal contexts. Sample topics covered in Level 6 include: review of topics from levels 1-5, review of all present, future, past and subjunctive verb tenses, increasing emphasis on fluency in questioning, commands, and hypothesizing.
Spanish Language (Level 7)	Spanish 255
This oral skills class is for students capable of managing a variety of daily interactions in Spanish, from social to informal to formal, that show that they are able to live and operate in a Spanish-speaking country. Focused on the following competencies: intercultural, communicative, grammatical, phonological, pragmatic.
Spanish Language (Level 8)	Spanish 255
Building on skills from Level 7, this oral skills class is for students capable of managing a variety of daily interactions in Spanish, from social to informal to formal, that show that they are able to live and operate in a Spanish-speaking country. Focused on the following competencies: intercultural, communicative, grammatical, phonological, pragmatic.

Spanish Language (Level 9)	Spanish 261
This class, which focuses on advanced writing techniques in Spanish, focuses on a variety of discursive categories, from persuasive to argumentative to descriptive. It also includes instruction on linguistic competencies necessary to support said writing as well as practical historical, social and intercultural knowledge to support students' learning.
Spanish Grammar (Level 7)	Spanish 300
The aim of all Spanish language classes at the University of Granada is to help students develop a strong grammatical understanding of the Spanish language, enabling analysis, reflection and practical use in a variety of formal contexts. Sample topics covered in Level 7 include: review of topics from levels 1-6, review of all present, future, past and subjunctive verb tenses, increasing emphasis on fluency in questioning, commands, and hypothesizing, non-personal forms of verbs, consecutive and causal propositions, etc. Students enrolling in this class must have sufficient command of the Spanish language.
Spanish Grammar (Level 8)	Spanish 300
The content of this class includes the main points of those remaining difficulties which a Spanish language learner may encounter in the later parts of their language acquisition process. Pronominal structures, distributives, subordinate phrases, use of conversation structures and distributives are among the structures covered, reviewed and refined in this class.
Spanish Grammar (Level 9)	Spanish 300
The content of this class includes the main points of those remaining difficulties which a Spanish language learner may encounter in the later parts of their language acquisition process. Pronominal structures, distributives, subordinate phrases, use of conversation structures and distributives are among the structures covered, reviewed and refined in this class, building off techniques acquired in Level 8.	